Sen. Paul Introduces the Accountability in Grants Act

WASHINGTON, D.C. – Today, Sen. Paul introduced the Accountability in Grants Act. This act would remove the authority of the EPA under Section 103 to award money to programs or activities that take place outside of the U.S. This bill would also prevent grant applicants in the U.S. from sub-granting awards to activities or organizations outside of America. Some examples of where taxpayer money is being sent: $141,450 to China to quantify the environmental impacts from different biogas disasters used to treat swine manures in China, $305,849 to the Science and Technology center in the Ukraine, $180,000 to train Polish municipalities on landfill gas, and the list goes on.

“At a time when our economy is struggling, we cannot afford to spend millions in taxpayer dollars for these projects,” Sen. Paul said. “With a $16 trillion debt, we need to ensure accountability for taxpayer dollars at every level and this bill would be a step in that direction.”
